In Luck .- A Mr. Tiffany, of Third street, drew a fine silver watch, and another gentleman drew a magnificent gold one, at Madame Bosco's entertainment last evening. Those individuals "born to good luck" should go to-night.

on, of the Seventeenth Ward, committed a man named Wm. Tobin to jail yesterday, in default of $200 bonds, to answer, at the next term of the Court of Common Pleas, the charge of stealing cloven dol-lars in bank-bills from George Howard.

C. J. W. Smith advertises four very fine frame houses for sale this afternoon at three o'clock. The very kind of property that is in great demand, and all of it pleasantly located in the Western part of the city. No. 244 Cutter street will be sold first, beginning at three o'clock P. M.

DEALERS in boots and shoes will find an excellent stock of goods for sale this morning, at auction, at nine o'clock, at No. 57 Main street. Goods arranged in catalogue form, and will be sold. No risk buying at auction of G. Brashears & Co., as all goods are guaranteed equal to sample, or no salo. SALE OF ANTIOCH COLLEGE, -Our readers probably remember that John Kebler was appointed, some time ago, by the United States Court, a Master Comnissioner to sell Antioch College. The sale took place yesterday, at which time it was transferred to man named Cummings, for $40,000-two-thirds of he amount at which it had been valued.

Zacharian Butler, a negro, who resides in that selectable neighborhood known as Bucktown, was arrested and confined in the Hammond-street Sta-ion-house, yesterday afternoon, upon a charge of having, in a disturbance, stabbed at a woman, and hereby causing her to fear for the safety of her life. He will have a hearing this morning at the Police ARREST OF COUNTERPEITERS, - A man named James Watson was taken before United States Commissioner Newhall, yesterday, charged with making and selling ounterfeit coin. A woman named Mary Morgan was alled as a witness, and testified to having bought $15 n quarters and halves for $5 from him, which were proven to be counterfeit. He was held to bail in the um of $1,000, and committed in default.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.-A man named Joseph Roxter ras arrested yesterday, in the Western part of the city. nd lodged in the Ninth-street Station-house, charged with having been guilty of the assault and robbery which occurred at the Second Ward House night before last, during which, our readers will remember. everal shots were fired at the victim of the robber. He will have a hearing before Judge Lowe this mornng, at the Police Court.

Fine,-About half-past one o'clock this morning a ire broke out in the Plaining Mill and Carpenter Shop of Simmons & Noyst, on the South side of Court street, two doors East of Linn. The flames had too much the advantage for our ever vigilant firemen, and soon spread to the adjoining dwellings, running eastwardly, entirely consuming some three or four, and leaving about fifteen families without shelter. The property was, we understand, fully covered by the act of jumping from a train on the Covington and Lexington Railroad, a day or two ago, had his foot so severely crushed by being run over by the cars, that his physician thought it necessary to amputate the great toe of the left foot at the joint, which he did in so bungling a manner as to leave the bone en-tirely unprotected, and the poor fellow now, instead of suffering alone from the accident, is also the victim of the stupidity of a man who professes to be a surgeon. Such physicians are scarce; but how the few there are obtain practice is past finding out.

SONEWHAT SINGULAR.—We have been informed upon reliable authority, and we are not inclined to loubt the statement, that the Principal of a certain Female Seminary in this city is in the habit of ignoring merit in his selections of persons for conspicuous places in the commencement exercises of the establishment under his charge, and of giving preference to those who are members of fashionable families, without regard to the deserts of others who oc-cupy less elevated positions in society. We hope this hint may serve a double purpose: that of making the principal more careful, and of putting the student on their guard.

STILL THEY COME.—The people are beginning to appreciate the benefits of advertising in our columns of "Wants" and "Notices." The "Press" circulates to a greater extent among the classes to which this species of advertising pertains, than any other paper in the city. On Tuesday morning a lady advertised for boarders, costing her only twenty-five cents for two insertions of the notice, and the investment pro-cured for her ten boarders during the first day. We might cite scores of similar instances, did our space permit, but we will only add, give us a trial. In Eastern cities, newspapers of this character appear with one or more pages of this kind of notices, and here is no reason why we should have less.

A MAIL ROBBER CAUGHT AND HELD TO BAIL .- A nan named Adam Oerbaugh, who was Postmaster at Donaldsonville, Highland County, in this State, hav-ing for some time past been suspected of abstracting money from letters which passed through the office at that place, was arrested and brought to this city yesterday, under circumstances which leave little doubt as to his guilt. A couple of decoy-letters had been placed in the office, one of which contained a ten-dollar bill, marked in such a manner as to be known, and the other, an eagle which had been treated in the same manner. After they had been taken from the office, he was arrested, and both were found upon his person. The United States Commissioner who heard he evidence in the case held him in the sum of $1,200, to answer the charge at the next term of the Circuit Court, which was given, and the prisoner

lismissed. POLICE COURT .- But little business of importance transpired before Judge Lowe yesterday. There were quite a number of cases before bim, but the offenses were of a minor character A young man named George Kally, who had in his possession, when arrested, one of those articles so well known among a certain case as "stuffed watches," was committed for a further hearing to-morrow morning, at which time he expects to show, to the satisfaction of the Court, that he is not a professional windler. Sylvester Roverty and Mary Williams, much better adapted to each other in their tastes and manner than they are to the preservation of the peace, were sent to the City Prison for twenty days each, for disorderly conduct.

Tennessee Lee, a colored woman who commits petty thefts, apparently for no other purpose than to be confined for the same in prison, was sentenced to a term of three months in the County Juli, for stealing four deliars from a man named Wilson. A man named John Irish assaulted a colored boy on the Landing, day before yesterday, and paid five dollars for it to the City Clerk, the amount of a fine for the offense which had been assessed by Judge

LAW REPORT. SUPERIOR COURT.

J. R. & J. Price vs. Lusher & Co., and others; tried before Judge Storer. The question was, whether a confessed judgment of Nevins to L. & Co. was properly obtained or not. The amount of the judgment was $7,000. The Jury found that Nevins was indebted to Lasher & Co., in the sum of $4,000.

E. A. Thompson and Brower for plaintiffs; T. J. Gallaghes for defense.

Judge Spencer heard cases on ambulasion in Room No. 1.

HAMILTON COUNTY DISTRICT COURT ADMITTED TO PRACTICE AS ATTORNEYS.—The folio-ing gentlemen were admitted as Attorneys at Law this Bar: Jeptha Gerrard, J. B. Powell, J. B. Brie, Samuel A. Riggs, Johnson H. Jordon, and Jo H. Rieckellman

ley, Samuel A. Riggs, Johnson H. Jordon, and John H. Rieckelman.

Contract with an Apprentice.—Miles Greenwood, plaintiff in error, vs. Bernhard Duenstock. The object of this was to reverse a judgment obtained in the Common Pleas Court. The son of the defendant in error was received into the establishment of Miles Greenwood under a contract that he was to draw a certain sum weekly, to be increased at the end of each year; but fifty cents a week was to remain in the hands of the employer, until the youth should attain his majority, when he was to draw the balance. After working three years at the business, and two years before he was of age, he left, and Greenwood having refused to pay the fifty cents a week, the father of the hoy brought suit, claiming that he was entitled to the wages of the boy, and was not a party to this special content. It was urged on the part of the plaintiff in error, that in allowing his son to remain for the period he did, showed a knowledge of and acquisseenes in the contract, and that he should not now be allowed to repudiate it.

The case was argued by Judge Woodruff for the plaintiff in error, and by J. C. Kaley for defendant, and was left under advisement with the Court.

MELODEON HALL,-Madame Bosco drew an immens audience to the Melodeon last night, and delighted them with her tricks and legerdemain. She has dotermined to remain three nights longer, and give away her jewelry, and entertain her audiences by her mystic art. The attractions she offers will certainly fill the house, and no doubt give entire satisfaction as the performances of this lady have always deno heretofore. SMITH & NIXON'S HALL .- Our readers will remem-ber the Concert to-night at Smith & Nixon's, by the pupils of the different Sunday-schools of the city. The programme has been carefully selected, and the orchestra and chorus are under the control of an ac-complished musician, which will have a tendency to make this one of the most agreeable enterminments of the season. We predict an immense house and a complete success on the part of the singers.

Assault with Intent to Kill.-A man named James Dickey was brought before Judgo Lowe yesterday morning, charged with an assault upon his wife who is quite a delicate woman, and who, from appear ances, has suffered long and patiently from the abuse of him who should have been her protector. She testified that about six weeks ago her husband, being irritated from some cause of which she had no knowledge, struck herseveral times with his fist, and afterward with a stick of wood which he caught up from before the fire, so severely injuring her, that even now she was seriously afraid she would never entirely recover from its effects.

A young and pleasant-looking girl, daughter of the parties, told a story similar to that given above, and also said that the abuse of her mother, upon the part of Dickey, had become habitual. The accused was held in bonds to the amount of $500, to answer the charge at the next term of the Court of Common Pleas.

FIRE YESTERDAY MORNING-NABROW ESCAPE FR Suffocation.-Yesterday morning, about nine o'clock fire broke out in the building occupied by the American Taper Company, located at No. 50 East Eighth street. The manufactory is three stories high, and the upper part of it is used as a drying room, in which several girls are employed in the business of drying and packing bunches of tapers. One of these accidentally took fire and quickly communicated the flames to the very combustible material which the room contained, causing the greatest consternation among the inmates of the building. The girls, most f them, escaped through the window upon an ad joining roof, but one, named Rachael Bradford, fainted, and but for the exertions of Mr. Charles Gilman, would in all probability have died from suffocaion. The fire was speedily extinguished, and the ioss, as is usual in this city, is much larger by water than by fire. Still, we believe it is entirely covered by insurance, both upon the stock and building.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A FIREMAN. - A fireman belong ing to Company No. 14, named Benjamin Gilman, died very suddenly yesterday morning at the fire in Eighth street. He had been ill for some time, but a few days ago, concluding that he was sufficiently strong, resumed his duties. He went to the fire with the engine upon which he was engaged, and after attending to his duties for sometime became very weak and had to be taken to the engine-house. A physician was sent for but before he arrived the sick man had entered upon duty in another, and, to judge from his generous impulses, a better world. Coroner Cary was sent for, but he dismissed the case, very justly considering the cause of death-over exertion-as too apparent to warrant him in holding an inquest. ESCAPE FROM THE CITY PRISON .- A couple of fel lows from the Thirteenth Ward, named, respectively, John Hays and Charles Feevney, who had been gentenced to a term of twenty days each in the City Prison, for disorderly conduct, effected their escape from that institution yesterday morning, about one o'clock. The locks were of such a nature, and had een placed upon the doors in such a manner, that, without much difficulty, the bolts could be pushed back; and these prisoners becoming acquainted with this fact, made such use of their knowledge that, when they found the main door open, they quietly

CHAS. JONES TESTIFIES. WASHINGTON, April 20 .- The Court of ened at half-past ten o'clock this morning, with the usual crowd in attendance.

After Mr. Sickles came in he had a hu rried conference with Messrs. Brady and Stant on. George B. Wooldridge's cross-examin ation was continued, but nothing of importance elicited. Examination in chief resumed-The ec fa is near the plane, which is at the extreme e ad of the room; after Mr. Sickles returned that Sunday there was a great buzz and conf asion in the house; some dozen people were there talking in couples, in regard to exert ising caution in the investigation; he told me I must be cautious and not use Mrs. Sickles' name; he had the knowledge that his wife had not been there on Thursday; it was that which de-pressed me in having to tell him that it, was Wednesday, and not Thursday, that a lady was there. I rode with Sickles to the neighborhood of the house on Fifteenth street on Friday; he did not get out of the carriage or make inquiries: I returned there about seven o'clock that night; it was a dark, stormy night; did not stay more than half an hour in the neigh-borhood; drove from there to the Capitol; I understood that I was to see this lady when I came there. I saw the negro boy Crittenden, and found that he was full of knowledge about Key going there; the negro did not know who the lady was, and did not have to make inqui-ries; the information came from the negro and to me; I was acting on the first directions, which were to find out, as his friend, whether this lady was his wife or not; he did not say any thing to me on Friday evening about it; he said nothing except what was in the letter, about me being guarded in my inquiries; he did not say whether I was or was not to make inquiries of other parties; by Mr. Sickles' manner I should think that my com-munication to him on Saturday afternoon about the dresses of the lady, and about the day being Wednesday, and not Thursday, completely convinced him; he was quite prestrated: it was after he had shown me the anonymous letter. We drove to the neighborhood, and he indicated to me the house; he said he had been there that morning; he said his hopes were that it was not his wife. A note addressed to me by Mr. Sickles on Saturday afternoon, said that I should be cautious in my inquiries about using the name of Mrs. Sickles, as suspicion, not true, was worse than the dreadful reality. Another note said that he had made inquiries which assured him that it was not his wife who had been there. I can not recollect the names of any persons in the lobby of the House on the Saturday afternoon, while Mr. Sickles was so agitated. I can re-member Capt. Goddard and Major Barrett and McClosky being in Mr. Sickles' house just after the homicide; can not say what time elapsed from Butterworth's going till I saw men run-ning. The words of Mr. Sickles, What shall I do? were not addressed as a question to But-terworth, but was an exclamation. I was very much affected that day; I can not estimate the interval of time between them going out and seeing the people run. Five minutes might cover the whole of it; there is one matter in which I think I am misunderstood: appear that the words, What shall I do, was a question to Butterworth; it was not; it appeared to be in this way, (witness holding his hands to his head.) Butterworth's words, Be quiet, were to sooth and calm Sickles. Albert A. Megaffey sworn-I know Key; was tolerably intimate with him; I was a member of the Club up to the time of its dissolution, and met Key there; had a conversation with Key in relation to Mrs. Sickles the day or two imme-diately preceding the Napier ball, which was on the 17th of February; recollect it from some-thing that occurred at the ball between Key and myself; never had a regular set conversa-tion with him about the matter, but I had re ferred to it three or four times when I met him Mr. Brady-I desire you to state this con District Attorney-I object. Mr. Brady—We propose to prove by this witness that shortly before the decease of Key the witness had noticed certain conduct on his part toward Mrs. Sickles, which led him to to be over attentive to her, in answer to which Key remarked that he had a great friendship for her; that he considered her a child and had a parental feeling toward her, and he repelled indignantly the idea of having any but kind and fatherly feelings toward her. Second—At a subsequent conversation in relation to the same subject, when the witness recurred to it and suggested to Key that he might get into

An official certificate in regard to the dimensions of Lafayette Square, the scene of the tragedy, was produced in Court. It states to be 725 feet long and 419 feet wide. Madison Place is 90 feet long and 90 feet wide.

John McDonald, footman for Mr. worn—On the Thursday preceding Mr. Key's death, while Mrs. Sickles was driving in the carriage, we met Mr. Key; he leaned into the carriage, looking into Mrs. Sickles' face, and asked her if she was going to the hop at Willard's. Mrs. Sickles said: I am going if Dan will let me. He got in and we rode around awhile.

Mr. Ould here rose and said that they had been told that the defense had closed. The prosecution had objected at every stage of the proceedings to the admission of proof of adul-tery. Some objections which they, had made had been sustained; others had been overruled; but the evidence of adulterous intercourse having been admitted, they could see no objection now to the admission of all the proof that could be obtained touching the adultery. He was not responsible for its publication; he does not know how the papers got it, and even will admit the truth of the confession of Mrs. Sickles, and allow it to be read in evidence.

There was much sensation at this statement. Mr. Brady rose quickly and said—This is most unexpected. The counsel for the prose-cution had objected to almost every thing offered during the trial, and are now willing to admit some of the things to which they have objected. The defense wanted time to consider this most surprising proposition. He would take the occasion to say that the prisoner regretted very much the publication of the con-fession of Mrs. Sickles.

Mr. Onld—The prosecution are certainly not asponsible for it; theyknow nothing about it. Mr. Graham said that it was too late in the day for the prosecution to attempt to re-open all the doors, after the witnesses for the defense have been scattered to the four winds.

The rebutting testimony was then opened. Hon. George H. Pendleton, member of Congress from Ohio, was called and testified—I made an inspection of the house on Fifteenth street on Monday week after Mr. Key was killed; I went to the house with Mr. Charles Jones; we went by the back way; we could not get in and sent for a locksmith; while we were in the yard we were joined by the two persons who testified to seeing us there, and they talked with us; the locks mith came and the back door was opened; we went in and looked at the rooms up stairs; Mr. Jones came down and found the front door open; I paid the lock-smith fifty cents and he went away; I never gave any direction to have any lock taken off; if the lock was removed from the front door, it was without my knowledge; I received, on the night of Mr. Key's death, his gloves, a butch of keys, an opera-glass case and a pocket-book, that were found on his person. I returned the pocket-book and keys, and left the other things to be used in the trial; I received one piece of paper, but have no recollec-tion of any card-case.

Mr. Brady—There is one letter written in ciphers that we want to have preserved. The piece of paper shown we will keep, to see if it has any bearing on the case.

The writtens then addressing the Court, said:

The witness then, addressing the Court, said:
'May it please your Honor, the statement made here by the counsel for the defense, in regard to an attempt to suppress evidence, or to my par-ticipation in the removal of the lock in any way whatever, for the sake of preventing the proof of any fact being made here, is infamously false.

faire."

Charles Jones testified—I accompanied Mr. Pendleton to the house on Fifteenth street; we found the front door locked, and got in the back way; we found the front door open after the locksmith came; I went up stairs, and when I came down saw the locksmith at work at the front door; I did not see him take the lock off, nor did Mr. Pendleton; I do not know why it was taken off, nor any thing about it. why it was taken off, nor any thing about it. . The Court then adjourned till to-morrow.
